Ask An Expert is a new video series we began filming where you, the citizens, have the chance to ask City Employees your questions. The first episode features Brittany Coburn, your Nuisance Abatement Tech. The next episode will air August 5 with Brooke, your Animal Control Officer. Check out this video series on our Facebook and YouTube pages.

Expert Reacts is a new series where a city employee reacts to a video explaining or busting the myths associated to the topic in their respected fields. Our first episode is Mike Skiba, our Bayou Golf Course head golf professional. The first episode will air on our Facebook and Youtube pages mid August. Skiba will debunk the infamous Happy Gilmore swing!

Texas City Tells is a new podcast series hosted by Darcie and Rhomari where they talk with small business owners and local entrepreneurs here in Texas City. Tune into our first episode of Texas City Tells airing in September. This will be a show you do not want to miss! Featured guests include Terro Isle, Species Gym, Grandpa Rosario’s and many more. Listen everywhere podcasts are found.

The recent spell of dry weather has done more than just turn our lawns brown. Droughts also cause soil to contract and split. This ground movement can and will break water lines. Please be on the look-out for any water leaks. Leaks are easy to spot when it is this dry. If you notice water standing where it should not be, please call our Utility Department at 409-643-5863.

Goodbye Interns!

Farewell to the Class of 2022 Hire Up Summer Interns. This class was the inaugural cohort of this new summer internship program. During their time here these college students gained hands on experience within their future career industries including finance, economic development, public works, engineering, recreation & tourism, and criminal justice. Interns were awarded a $4,000 scholarship paid to their school. Economic Development/ Marketing Intern, Dasia Moore, stated “My favorite aspect of the Hire Up Internship program is the incredible experiences I’ve had and the life lessons I’ve gained. Being an intern has allowed me to witness behind the scenes of Texas City.”
